

Board Member for SOCIS

About us

Southern Okanagan Community Inclusion Society is dedicated to fostering a community where every individual is valued and included. We work tirelessly to provide support and resources to ensure that everyone can participate fully in society, regardless of their background or abilities. The organization provides support to neurodiverse persons and those with a developmental disability. Services range from one to one support, community participation, life skills, employment, supported living and residential group homes. Find out more on our website at www.socisbc.ca.
